Introduction

This is Cbus' third Tax Transparency Report and covers the 2020/2021 (FY 2021) financial year.

The Voluntary Tax Transparency Code (the Code) is a set of principles and minimum standards to guide medium and large business on the public disclosure of tax information.

The Code was developed by the Board of Taxation and endorsed by the Federal Government. This report meets the set of principles and minimum standards guide in respect to large businesses on public disclosures of tax information recommended under the Code.

As a large taxpayer, Cbus understands the importance of acting in a transparent manner and to help educate the public about its compliance with Australian and international tax laws.

Accordingly, Cbus is a voluntary participant in this disclosure regime.

About Cbus

Cbus is the leading industry super fund for those working in building, construction and other industries that build Australia. We were formed in 1984, when building and construction workers won the right to superannuation.

Our members are the foundation and future of our fund. They trust us to invest wisely, provide insurance for financial protection during their working lives and create financial security for them in retirement. Maximising the retirement savings of our members is at the heart of everything we do, not paying dividends to shareholders.

During FY 2021, Cbus invested over $65 billion on behalf of more than 775,000 members and 170,000 employers.

We invest our members' retirement savings in different types of assets for the long term. We also invest directly in the building and construction industry through our wholly owned subsidiary, Cbus Property*. This adds to the returns of our fund, creates jobs and contributes to the industry in which our members work.

*Cbus Property Pty Ltd is a wholly-owned subsidiary of United Super Pty Ltd and has responsibility for the development and management of Cbus' direct property investments.

Cbus' approach to Tax Strategy, Risk and Governance

Cbus' approach to Tax Strategy, Risk and Governance aims to support its objective of achieving the best retirement outcomes for its members.

In accordance with Cbus' Tax Risk Governance Framework, Cbus maintains either a conservative or neutral tax risk appetite. The following principles guide Cbus in managing tax risks and making decisions in relation to its tax affairs:

- Full compliance – Cbus will ensure it is compliant with all statutory tax obligations and seek to pay the legally correct amount of tax in all jurisdictions in which it operates on time.
- Optimising tax efficiency – Cbus will manage its tax affairs in a proactive and structured manner, drive tax efficiencies and identify opportunities to optimise after-tax member outcomes in the course of carrying out Cbus' business activities.
- Prudent risk taking – Cbus will not engage in tax avoidance and evasion schemes or aggressive tax positions that have a material risk of an adverse finding in court or an erosion of public trust and the reputation of Cbus. Cbus will maintain documented tax positions and procedures.
- Transparent, productive and cooperative – Cbus will seek to maintain a transparent, productive and cooperative relationship with revenue authorities locally and abroad.
- Continuous improvement – Cbus will seek to continually improve its tax governance and risk management practices in line with leading industry practice.

Cbus' engagement with Tax Authorities

Cbus is a participant in the ATO's Top 1,000 Tax Performance Program. During FY 2021, Cbus was also a participant in the ATO's Top 1,000 Next Actions Program.

These ATO compliance programs form part of the ATO's 'Justified Trust' initiative which seeks to obtain greater confidence that Australia's largest taxpayers are paying the right amount of tax.

Cbus continues to engage with the ATO, maintaining a transparent and consultative relationship with tax authorities in all relevant jurisdictions.

Australia's superannuation tax regime

The income tax rates applied to superannuation funds are different to company and individual tax rates.

Super funds like Cbus are required to pay tax on member contributions and earnings as follows:

Cbus' International Investments

Cbus invests in many different jurisdictions around the world, including developed and emerging markets. Cbus also invests across a wide range of different assets, including listed equities, fixed interest instruments, property, private equity and infrastructure.

As part of our due diligence process, when investing into these different countries, we ensure that we comply with the relevant tax laws in those jurisdictions, paying the appropriate amount of foreign tax under a reasonable reading of the law.

Where tax is paid in those foreign jurisdictions, Cbus is generally allowed an appropriate amount of foreign tax credits in Australia which offsets that foreign tax paid against any Australian tax payable on that same income. This effectively prevents double taxation on income.

Due to commercial reasons, Cbus does have some investments in pooled entities that are in certain low or no tax jurisdictions. These pooled entities aggregate funds from investors all over the world and invests into various sectors and jurisdictions.

Investing into global pooled entities allows for commercial and business efficiencies. For example, it allows Cbus to invest with other foreign institutional investors into quality assets (and projects) that Cbus might not necessarily have the opportunity or capacity to invest in alone. Aggregating funds in this way permits tax to be paid where those investments are located as well as when the income is returned to investors (in Australia for Cbus).
